IVI News Update

IVI Welcomes New Members

IVI is delighted to announce two new consortium members which include Allied Irish Banks (AIB) who join as IVI Patron Member and Cavan County Council who join as IVI Contributor Member.

We look forward to sharing more information on these new members and to working with them on the adoption of the IT-CMF framework. If you have any membership queries please reach out to Dave Farrelly, Head of Relationship Management David.Farrelly@ivi.nuim.ie

IVI Winter Summit 2016 - 14th & 15th December Save the Dates!

IVI is delighted to partner with the International Conference on Information Systems (ICIS 2016), 'Digital Innovation at the Crossroads', for it's annual CIO symposium. The annual IVI Ireland based Summit will take place on the 14th & 15th of December in Dublin & Maynooth.

IVI is excited to work alongside ICIS the morning of Wednesday Decemeber 14th for it's CIO Symposium which takes place in Dublin's impressive Convention Centre. The morning event will consist of the very best of IVI and ICIS thought leadership with keynote presentations by global IT and technology management leaders. The afternoon will present a series of networking opportunities as well as the chance to soak up some of Dublin's latest visitor attractions.

On Thursday December 15th IVI will host a series of presentations and research workshops in Maynooth University highlighting how the IT -CMF framework is being widely used by end user organisations and consulting partners.

Further information will follow shortly. For more information on the ICIS event please see here

Please save the date and we look forward to seeing you in Ireland in December.

IVI hosts Framework Evolution Workshop

The Research team at IVI recently hosted a successful 2-day workshop with key stakeholders and patron members spanning fifteen organizations, at Maynooth University (7th and 8th June).

The next generation of IT-CMF was the primary workshop focus, where key discussion topics included the framework research roadmap and evolving IVI's research engagement model to meet more needs of our industry partners.

IVI looks forward to continuing the open innovation model that characterised the development of IT-CMF v1.0. This recent workshop marks the commencement of a rolling series of opportunities for collaborating with industry and academic peers on these and related research topics. Expect to see further announcements of collaboration opportunities in the coming months. Please send any queries to IVI@nuim.ie
