IVI Webinar: Rebuilding the Future: European Bauhaus initiative with Circularity and Retrofitting in Construction 25th Sept 3-4.30pm (GMT+1)

Join us at the Autumn IVI Webinar Series. This webinar explores the urgent need to shift from a traditional linear economy—based on the "take, make, dispose" model—toward a circular economy that prioritizes sustainability and resource efficiency. While this transition is essential for meeting climate goals, it presents complex challenges that require innovative thinking and cross-sector collaboration.

Join leading experts and practitioners in circular construction as they share the latest developments, innovations, and challenges in transforming the built environment. The session will focus on integrating prevention and reuse into construction practices, which is critical to reduce environmental impact and support climate policy commitments. Attendees can look forward to insightful presentations followed by a dynamic discussion exploring the key challenges, emerging opportunities, and practical strategies shaping the future of sustainable construction.
